

Dangerous Times

The world you see outside the window
is not the world you'd like to see.
The world you see outside the window
is not the place you'd like to be.

Chorus:

These are dangerous time
get up and fight for yourself.
But all these dangerous times
they've passed forever.

And if you look into the mirror
it's not the man you'd like to see.
So if you look into the mirror
you're not the man you'd like to be.

Chorus:

If everybody starts with thinking
the dangerous times are forever gone.
If everybody starts with changing
then a new world can be born.
