

Rock Opera

In a moment she took my heart
then she threw it away.
first there where completion
but she left only pain.

I open my eyes, I see her face, she fixed the time.
Uh uh uh uh uh,
everything is standing still for a moment.

I can hear the wind calling her name
and he sing our song.
My heart is filled with flowers
but I just can't hang on.

I open my eyes, I see her face, she fixed the time.
Uh uh uh uh uh,
everything is standing still for a moment.

Time goes by but I can't forget
she made me her slave.
Not an hour where I do not regret ever knowing her name.

She passed my life, the time goes by.
Her face is a shadow, like a dark black sky.
The wind turn to storm, the sun is gone.
And then my heart was driven away.

I flee into my wired dreams
maybe that's the cause.
And every breath that I take
I feel a bit more lost.

She passed my life, the time goes by.
Her face is a shadow, like a dark black sky.
The wind turn to storm, the sun is gone.
And then my heart was driven away.
