

Sinner or Saint

When you're lost and full of doubt, and no one's beside you you are the last and only one, you cannot hide.
You live your life without a thought, and everything seems fine the girls around you cannot love, you're looking for the specific one.

Bridge:

You're not a sinner, you're not a saint You're just the man you'd like to be.
You're not a hero, you are not faint
all you want, is really to be free.

You are not free and now you know, there is no way out.
You are afraid and full of pain, you cry it out loud.
Come on and fight, fight for your life, let's go hurry up
No further dreams, start the real life,
come on and make the global cut.
